The primary object of the anti-Snappers was professedly to secure the election of Cleveland, and they say they do not want to be accused of breaking faith.

The National Committee, politicians say, is not tikely to interfere in local affairs, and to them it is almost certain as day that Mr. Grace will put up a ticket.

Some believe that he will secure the support of the Counties and run for Mayor nimself. Louis Weinhagen, the boarder at Mrs. Gun-ther's house, 14 First street, who was taken sick there with Asiatic cholera three days self.

The prediction was freely made this morning that Grant would be renominated by Tammany Hall, and that Grace would run against him, as he did in 1884, when cloveland was first a candidate for President.

If the anti-Snappers nominate candidates there will be four local lickets to be voted for this Fall. The Socialists last night made the following nominations: died in that institution at 0 o'clock this morning.

Weinbagen was a coachman for William Schlemmer, the Bowery hardware merchant. He spent the summer with his employer's family at Bayside, L. L. and came tack to the city Sept. 8, and went to live at Mrs. Guenther's boarding-house. He was suffering from diarrhona for several days before a physician was called to see him. When the ductor saw him he immediately notified the Board of Health and he was at once removed to the Reception Hospital.

The boarding-house has been repeatedly disinfected and is now quarantined. Night before last all the limates, about two hundred, were treated to a bath and their clothing funigated. Other precautionary measures have been taken to prevent a spread of the disease in First street and Extra place.
